Bentas, Sept. 19.—The army maneuvres

Berlin. Sept. 19.—The army maneuvres which have been in progress for some days concluded today with an attack by the Foorth and Eleventh army corps, commanded by Emperor. William in person, upon the enemy under General Wittich. The emperor left Mulliamsen yesterday and proceeded to Volkamoda, where he essumed command of the Eleventh army corps. The fourth corps, quitting their bivourses at 4 a.m., joined the Eleventh, and the united force, marching in three columns, advanced towards Schlotheim. The operations ended with the repulse of General Wittich's command and its retreat upon Langensalza. Later the emperor started for Wilhelmshohe.

Milliary experts, in reviewing the recent series of army maneuvers by the Austrian, Envarian and Prussian troops, all concur in the opinion that grave defects were exhibited by the Austrian troops, owing to the absence of generals capable of directing their movements without blundering. Emperor William is reported as having told Emperor Francis Joseph that his men and officers were fit to myet any earny that might be brought against them, but that his generals were wasting in the self-reliance associated with a consciousness of their ability to handle men. The Bavarian and Prussian maneuvers disclosed less serious defects. Last evening the emperor grouged the officers of his army in the field near Schlotheim and made a brief speech, in which he advised that a less rigid system be followed in marching and that freer methods be adopted in drilling. High military authorities are agreed that both the Austrian and German armies are now fully ready to meet an enemy.

The statement says that on December 31, 1889, Julius Clark Daniels secured from the county clerk of Cook county a license to himself under the name of "Julius Clarke" and to Gertrude Whiting Potter under the name of "Gertrude Whiting" to marry. Acting under that license, Julius Clark Daniels and Gertrude Whiting Potter were married on January 1, 1800 by Rev. R. A. John. The parties continued thereafter to live at their respective homes. Subsequently Miss Potter submitted to legal council the question of the validity of legal council the question of the validity of her marriage with Daniels, and was ad-vised and believed that such marriage was

How Miss Potter was married to young Rust and divorced from him is related as above and, finally, the statement con-cludes with: "No actual necessity existed for any decree of the court annuling the marriage, which was in fact void, but the same was secured for the reason that the interests of all concerned made it proper under the circumstances stated."

THE DARDANELLES INCIDENT.

Finding the English government eagerly disposed to make the position of the Darianelles matter a weapon of defense, Russia has suddenly changed her diplomatic tactics. The Russian embassador at Constantinopie has informally advised Sir William White, the English embassador to Turkey, that the alleged occupation of Sigri by the British does not in any way concern Russia, and Count von Scheuvaloff, the Russian embassador at Rerlin, has explained to Chancellor von Caprivi

The Novesti concludes by urging Salisbury's government to enter into a definite agreement with Russia at the present moment, when it could be done under more favorable circumstances, perhaps, than it could at any available later juncture. Washington, Sept. 19.—By a visit to the Farmers' Alliance headquarters in this city, some interesting information was obtained in regard to the program of that body during the next session of congress. In addition to the headquarters being located here and the principal officers of the Alliance being on hand most of the time, there will be a committee especially charged with looking out for the interests of the Alliance before congress. The Alliance claims to have fifty five men in the next house who will vote with it on all the measures which it may see fit to bring forward. It also claims four senators—Peffer of Kansas, Kyle of South Dakota, Irby of South Carolina, and Vance of North Carolina. It claims Vance because he was elected after the legislature of his state had passed a resolution that no man could be chosen senator until he agreed to a program which was practically that of the Alliance. Mr. Vance having agreed to those resolutions, the Alliance now claims him as its own.

At the next session the sub-treasury bill as it was intraduced in the last congress. Often give birth to miasma, as one of the first fruits of an upturning of the soil. Malaria is a relentless foe to the newly arrived emigrant if he be unprepared to meet it by the use of a reliable preparative and preventive. It therefore behoaves those seeking the far west in search of homes to provide themselves with a medicinal guaranty against chills and fever, billous, remittent, and ailments of kindred origin. Hostetter's Stomach Bitters has for nearly half of a century been esteemed the best. From Maine to Oklahoma, from Victoria to San Juan del Sud, its acknowledged superiority meets with no challenge in localities where it has been used. Medical testimony, the most positive and direct, backs up the general verdict, no less in regard to its virtues in cases of liver complaint, dyspepsia, constipation, rheumatism and kidney ailments than in cases of malarial disease.

Another measurethe passage of which the Alliance will demand is a free-coinage bill. These three measures are the ones in which it will take the most interest. But other bills will come from its hand. It will have introduced a bill providing for government control of railroads and telegraph systems. In regard to the railroad and telegraph companies the Alliance is misunderstood, it is said at its headquarters. It is not, as is generally supposed, in ferred to the fact that they had accompan-ied Special Treasury Agent Williams and his assistant on their journeys of explora-tion and found that their views were iden his assistant on their journeys of expansion to and found that their views were identical regarding the future course to be pursued in perpetuating the seals of the Pribyloff islands.

Agent Williams is now at his home in Ohio engaged in the preparation of his report on the subject, and the commissioners assured the president before leaving the White House that they would formulate a similar document as speedily as possible.

those resolutions, the Alliance now claims him as its own.

At the next session the sub-treasury bill as it was introduced in the last congress willnot make its appearance. That measure, they say at Alliance headquarters, has been repudiated by both houses of congress, and will, for that reason, not be resurrected. A bill constructed, however, upon lines similar to it, and embodying the same principles, will be introduced into both houses and pushed to a vota. Exactly what changes will be made in the original sub-treasury bill have not yet been determined apon. The Stanford land loan bill will not be touched by the Alliance, whose leaders are very much put out that the people think the Stanford bill finds favor with them. It is said at Alliance headquarters that that bill is only designed to help people who alroady have a fair share of this world's goods. A bill bearing upon the same subject will, it is true, be introduced under Alliance auspices.
